

PRESS RELEASE: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Welch School of Art & Design Gallery at Georgia State University is pleased to present

Where do we go from here?* a video installation by James O'Donnell on view March 5 - 9 2012.

The public is invited to a reception on Thursday, March 8 from 5 until 9p.

Where do we go from here? is a video installation by Atlanta-based multimedia artist James O'Donnell using footage collected on Cumberland Island and inspired in part by Ann Morrow Lindbergh's book Gift from the Sea, which extolls the virtues of solitude, simplicity, and spiritual healing. Ocean imagery unifies the installation just as it connects Lindbergh's book to O'Donnell, who grew up along the Florida seaside. Additionally, the ocean serves as a gateway to investigations of time, the self, and the search for more. According to O'Donnell, "We are the swell of waves, birthed from a vast ocean to which we inevitably return – all else is hearsay."

Press Contact:

James O'Donnell, artist

jamesodonnellart@gmail.com

(404) 372-9993

jamesodonnellart.com

Attached image:

James O'Donnell, Where do we go from here?, video installation (detail), 2012

~more~

Where do we go from here? a video installation by James O'Donnell

Exhibit dates: March 5 – 9, 2012

Reception: Thursday, March 8, 5 – 9p

Location & Hours

Hours: Monday – Friday, 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Welch School Galleries

Georgia State University

10 Peachtree Center Ave.

Atlanta, GA 30303

The Welch School Galleries are located at the corner of Gilmer Street and Peachtree Center Ave. Free evening event parking at the United Way deck at Auburn Ave. (between Courtland & Peachtree Ctr.) or streetside after 7p. The gallery is within walking distance of the MARTA Five Points Station. All gallery programs are free and open to the public and accessible to persons with disabilities.

<http://www2.gsu.edu/~wwwgal/>

###